

Career Connect would like to reassure all customers and partners that our National Careers Service contract remains fully operational for all adults. Whilst our face-to-face appointments are suspended, our local services are still accessible through telephone and digital

Your customers/clients may be concerned about job security; need support with building their skills, employability and resilience to overcome short term challenges; or to consider what future opportunities may look like.

The National Careers Service has additional flexibility to support individuals, groups, partners, employers and stakeholders during this period. This support is available for all adults, including:

- Furloughed workers (including Self Employed in receipt of Income Support Scheme)
- Pupils whose examinations have been cancelled National careers Service advisers can disseminate information provided by Ofqual, offer support, encouragement and inspiration to students who will be concerned about their future.
- Parents / Carers seeking careers information related to the pupil they are responsible for

Please pick up the phone and book an appointment with one of our qualified careers advisers – we are here to support you and your customers through these challenging times.
